VEVOR 2000W Sump Pump Battery Backup

With a 2000W output, smart LCD display, 18.2A operating current, and the ability to support two pumps simultaneously, our sump pump battery backup inverter ensures your basement stays dry in any weather or blackout. Invest in peace of mind with VEVOR today!

Say goodbye to confusion with the built-in LCD screen that provides real-time monitoring of the working status right on the device. From voltage and power to battery level, working temperature, and alerts, everything you need to know is at your fingertips. Stay informed, stay secure!

Equipped with two AC outlets, our battery backup for sump pump offers unparalleled flexibility. When one sump pump isn't enough to meet your needs, simply plug in two – our dual outlets support simultaneous operation for two sump pumps.

Our sump pump battery backup system features a 3 ft extended battery cable, so connecting your battery is a breeze – no more cramped spaces or awkward setups. Say goodbye to the hassle of additional power strips – our longer cable ensures effortless connectivity, meeting your needs with ease.

The VEVOR sump pump backup battery is truly universal and ready to tackle any electrical demand during power outages. In addition to powering sump pumps, it supports other essential devices such as lights, surveillance systems, and more. With VEVOR, you're covered for all your power needs.
